Who is Best Friends? Best Friends Animal Society operates the nation's largest sanctuary for homeless, abused and abandoned animals. We create successful model programs for low-cost spay/neuter, humane education, shelter makeovers and animal welfare. Some examples include: DeSex and The City, Catnippers, Best Friends Brigade, mobile adoptions, No More Homeless Pets Campaigns, star studded fundraisers and Super Adoptions. Best Friends is now home to 22 of the "Michael Vick dogs." We were first on the ground during Hurricane Katrina where Best Friends built Tyler Town; a safe haven for the four legged disaster victims. Best Friends cared for these lost souls while working diligently to reunite them with their guardians. Dogtown, National Geographic's new hit series, is filmed at Best Friends and tells the wonderful, touching stories of dogs who come to the sanctuary. We are also featured on national media such as CNN and Nightline.

What is the No More Homeless Pets Conference? A two day, educational, fun conference on how communities can bring an end to the killing of healthy homeless pets. Cities, counties, and entire states across the country are doing it. Experts who are creating a new world for homeless pets will be speaking at this landmark gathering, as we explore strategies to develop no-kill communities.

The conference includes panel discussions, workshops and optional intensive seminars that explore successful model programs and provide how-to information on community outreach strategies, fundraising methods, increasing adoptions and spay/neuter, feral cat programs, volunteer recruitment, media relations and addressing breed specific legislation.
