Description:	So everything was going OK until my dumb brother got a little too rough and bit me on the back - then all of a sudden my back legs quit working! I still zoom around as fast as anything. But I need help going to the bathroom and so far, I can't find anyone willing to help me and clean up after me... even though I love to play and be held and purr and give loves. That's a fair trade, isn't?
